MINING REGULATIONS.

There is a serious defect in the mining regulations now in force, regarding which we have heard much complaint, and to which we would respectfully invite the attention of Government. We refer to the fact that there is no provision by which new-comers can ascertain what claims are legally taken up, or, indeed, taken up at all. The usual mode is to make enquiry of those who are working their claims. But it is not their business, and sometimes not their interest either, to give such information, so that the result of such enquiry is seldom of a satisfactory character. If the Gold Commissioner is applied to he knows nothing about it; and thus men, who are alike strangers to the miners and the mining business, find it exceedingly difficult to ascertain what ground is really taken up. In this way, we are informed, claims have been kept vacant until those adjoining were prospected and ascertained to be rich, when the knowing ones would, of course, either personally or through their friends, step in and secure those claims. Such a state of things is very unsatisfactory, and affords no chance for the thousands of new arrivals. It is therefore highly important that a remedy be provided. Now for a remedy. It is generally a much easier task to point out defects than suggest a remedy. In this case, however, we incline to the opinion that the remedy is very simple indeed. A plan or tracing of each Creek or mining section, with every claim indicated and properly marked off as taken up by a duly licensed miner, displayed in a public place at every mining locality, so as to be freely accessible to all, would, we apprehend, fully meet the case. By a glance at such a plan, the new-comer could at once ascertain that which now costs him much trouble and delay, as well as exposes him frequently to uncivil replies and imposition. This we conceive to be a very important matter—sufficiently important to justify the Government in having attached to the staff of Gold Commissioners at least one good practical draftsman, whose business it would be to prepare plans or tracings of all mining localities for the purpose above indicated; and it would be very desirable that he should understand Civil Engineering as well, so that the claims could be properly surveyed off, and everything done in a proper and systematic manner; and especially are such provisions desirable when, as on Williams Creek, a very few feet of ground often contains a handsome fortune.

THE INFAMOUS BUTLER PROCLAMATION, which must forever darken the page of American history, has elicited much severe animadversion in both Houses in England. In the House of Lords on the 13th June, the Earl of Carnarvon put questions to Earl Russell touching the proclamation, reading a copy of it to the House, and commenting severely thereon. Earl Russell replied, strongly condemning the act. In the House of Commons, on the same day, Sir J. Walsh moved for all correspondence upon the subject, making a strong speech. Mr. Gregory seconded the motion in an able speech, and Lord Palmerston rose amidst loud cheers, and replied as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, appealed to as I have been by my hon. friend, I am quite prepared to say that I think no man could have read the proclamation to which our attention has been drawn without a feeling of the deepest indignation (cheers from both sides of the House)—a proclamation to which I do not scruple to attach the epithet infamous. (Renewed cheering.) Sir, an Englishman must blush to think that such an act has been committed by one belonging to the Anglo-Saxon race. (Cheers.) If it had come from some barbarous race that was not within the pale of civilization, one might have regretted it, but might not have been surprised; but that such an order should have been promulgated by a soldier (cheers)—by one who has raised himself to not less astonishment than pain, (Cheers.) Sir, I cannot bring myself to believe that the Government of the United States, whenever they had notice of this order, must of their own accord have stamped it with their censure and condemnation. (Hear.) We received yesterday a despatch from Lord Lyons commencing from the newspapers the paragraph read by the hon. baronet—namely, the order of General Beauregard animadverting on and giving the text of the proclamation to which reference has been made. There will be no objection to produce that paper. With regard to the course which Her Majesty's Government may upon consideration take on the subject, the House, I trust, will allow me to say that will be a matter for reflection. (Cheers.) I am quite persuaded that there is no man in England who does not share those feelings which have been so well expressed by the hon. baronet and my hon. friend." (Loud cheers.)

The motion was then agreed to.

NEW WESTMINSTER, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 6.

THE CARY MAIL SUBSIDY.

The contract entered into last winter between our Ex-Attorney General and certain steamboat proprietors of San Francisco has expired; and we may now fairly review the transaction in all its bearings for good or ill to this Colony. That the revenue of British Columbia is minus the sum of two thousand five hundred pounds, sterling money, without an equivalent, is an indisputable fact, and, we believe, undisputed fact; and so far as the wants and wishes of the people are concerned, the arrangement has proved to all intents and purposes a miserable abortion—a monument either of consummate folly, or the most unblushing knavery. The Memorial first presented to Governor Douglas last fall, prayed for a subsidy to be granted to such steamers as would make New Westminster their destination, and the second to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, prayed Her Majesty's Government to assist the Colonies of British Columbia and Vancouver Island, by subsidizing a British line of steamers from Panama to New Westminster, the Victoria. That the first Memorial above alluded to should have been treated as most other questions are where the vital interests of this Colony are at stake, does not at all surprise us; and if a reference to the columns of this paper, we made, it will be seen that we opposed the principle of the arrangement entered into on the part of the Executive of this Colony, and took the position that it was calculated to injure our cause rather than forward it with Her Majesty's Government. And that our fears at that time were well founded, we have ample proof; for on every occasion when application has been made to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, inquiring whether Her Majesty's Government had any intention of subsidizing a line of steamers from Panama to this coast, this temporary, ill-advised, and most absurd contract has been the standing reply—held up as an arrangement between the Colonies of British Columbia and Vancouver Island of an implied permanent character, and which has been represented as answering the necessities of the country. We wish more particularly to refer to a question put by Sir H. Verney, in the House of Commons, to the Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, as the last we are in receipt of treating upon this subject, and which appears in the London Times of 14th June. A letter to the Hon. Baronet from a passenger on board an American vessel from San Francisco to Vancouver Island, which is licensed to carry 800 passengers, states that that number was exceeded by over 50 per cent, and that the ship and passengers would be seriously endangered should they be caught in a gale of wind on the voyage, therefore he inquired "whether a line of packets would be established by the Government between Panama and British Columbia. Mr. C. Fortescue admitted the importance of this subject, and, as usual, said that "something had been done to improve postal communication with Vancouver Island and British Columbia," alluding to the ill-starred contract just expired, the results of which we have seen and felt to be prejudicial, not only to the present wants of this Colony, but what is of far greater moment, as standing in the way of the establishment by the Imperial Government, of a British line of Mail Steamers from Panama. That the Home Government would have established such a line had not this unfortunate Cary abortion intervened, is abundantly evident from the repeated allusions to the subject in the House, and the importance attached to it both by the Government and independent members.

We could not have a more fitting opportunity than the present to endorse the cautionary object of the communication alluded to as having been received by Sir H. Verney. We have a fearful foreboding that a disaster, unequalled in its horrors, must occur sooner or later, as the inevitable result of the overcrowding of passenger steamers plying between San Francisco and this country. This is a subject we have no right to ignore simply because they are foreign vessels. The world renowned riches and arduous deposits of British Columbia cannot fail to attract immense numbers to our shores next season. And now is the time that measures should be inaugurated that will place on this coast an efficient line of British Mail Steamers. Most assuredly the laws regulating the conveying of passengers are rigid enough to prevent such abuses under our own flag as are every day perpetrated on board American steamers, both on this and the other side of San Francisco, not in the matter of overcrowding only, but the general treatment to which passengers, and especially such as are known to be British subjects, are subjected; and, in addition to the advantages which would accrue to the Empire from such an arrangement, the cause of humanity demands that Her Majesty's Government should, for a few years at least, take a sufficient interest in this subject to subsidize a line of steamers, until the revenue of this Colony, together with that of Vancouver Island, will permit the payment of such service which, at the most, cannot exceed three years.

It is not the desire of Colonists in general, or British Columbians in particular, when their vested rights are acknowledged by according to them the means of making their own laws and expending their own revenue, to hang, like an incubus, for support upon the Mother Country. History and experience will prove their spirit of independence too great and their sense of principle too high to permit the acceptance of any assistance from the Imperial Government, after they can control their own affairs. But for the exigencies of the present case in subsidizing a Mail line for a year or two to start the Colony, and by which the Imperial interests would be served in a ratio fully commensurate with the money paid, we think we are not asking too much when we Memorialize Her Majesty's Government for this purpose, as was done last fall. That that Memorial has not led to some practical results, we much regret. But if we believe the purpose of the Memorial to be just and necessary for the interests of both Colonies, it is worth trying for again; and by following the advice of Dan O'Connell, we must "agitate, agitate, agitate," until we ultimately accomplish the end we have in view—a British line of Mail Steamers between Panama and New Westminster.

Robbery—$250 Reward.

A TIN BOX, containing Papers, Bank Notes, and Cash, was abstracted from my premises on Saturday last, by some unknown party. The papers were of no value save to the undersigned; the notes were on the Bank of British North America, and amounted to between $1,200 and $1,400, and the cash was in gold and silver, and amounted to about $250. Precautions have been taken to stop the payment of the notes. $200 reward will be paid for the recovery of the notes, and $50 reward for the recovery of the papers.

Important to Business Men in Victoria, California, Portland, and Places on the Sound!

THIS JOURNAL is the only newspaper published in British Columbia, and is read by every business man from New Westminster to the Rocky Mountains. It is an advertising medium for the Colony. W. F. HERRING, in Victoria, and Thos. Joyce, in San Francisco, are our authorized Agents.

GOVERNMENT GAZETTE.—In order to meet the requirements of the Government we have reserved the fourth page, or so much thereof as may be required, for the purposes of a GOVERNMENT GAZETTE. In future, therefore, all Government, as well as Municipal, notices and advertisements will appear in that Department. In the event of those of urgent nature coming to hand too late for the outside, in which case they will receive one insertion on the inside.

The British Columbian.

NEW WESTMINSTER, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 6.

THE COLONIES IN THE IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

The following discussion in the House of Commons, on 13th June, will be read with deep interest in both Colonies; and especially that portion referring to the separation of the Governments, will interest the people of British Columbia. We were not mistaken in the conviction, which we have repeatedly expressed of late, that these matters were subject of deliberation at Home; and, if in time, which we have reason to believe it will be, the Memorial recently sent off will indeed be most opportune, and can hardly fail in producing the most important results.

On the vote of £9,000 for British Columbia, Mr. BAXTER referred to the statement made in the Estimates, that one moiety of the cost of the Royal Engineers would be borne by the colony and another by the mother country, and asked whether the colony had ever, in fact, paid a farthing of the proposed contribution.

Mr. C. FORTESCUE said the colony had paid a very considerable sum for the expenses of the Royal Engineers. It had defrayed a larger proportion than most young colonies were asked to contribute, or even most old ones.

The vote was agreed to. Upon a vote of £55,000 for Vancouver Island, Mr. A. MILLS asked for further information beyond the words "an estimate of the sum to defray expenses consequent upon the resumption of Vancouver Island from the Hudson Bay Company by the Crown."

Mr. FORTESCUE said it was a vote which could never appear again in the Estimates, but it was a vote without which the Crown could not resume possession of the Island. In the grant of 1849 to the Hudson Bay Company it was provided that the Crown should have the power of resuming possession of the Island at any time after the expiration of the license of trade, upon the payment to the company of the actual amount which they had expended in establishments, bringing emigrants there, &c. The company demanded a much larger sum than £55,000. There had been a great deal of negotiation between the representatives of the Treasury and of the Colonial Office and the company. A compromise had at length been arrived at, and legal proceedings of a very protracted and expensive character had been avoided.

Mr. ANDERLEY said that however satisfactory it might be to hear that the Crown could not buy Vancouver Island of the Hudson Bay Company twice over, and that another vote would not be asked for the same purpose, he still wished to know what the £55,000 was given for, and he should also be glad to know whether any similar arrangements had been made with respect to the rights of the company to the mainland.

Mr. FORTESCUE said he was very sorry that the Crown had been obliged to buy Vancouver Island at any price, that it was part of the arrangement in 1849, and every farthing of this sum had been expended by the Hudson Bay Company; in fact, it was only the residue after giving credit for the proceeds of the sale of lands. With respect to the mainland, the claim of the company was of a very minor character, and it had been compromised upon very favorable terms.

Mr. ANDERLEY thought they might have an account of what had been done by the company for which the £55,000 was to be paid.

Mr. CHILVERS was afraid they must vote the money, but hoped the Government would give some details.

Mr. FORTESCUE said the sum, arrived at after long negotiations, strictly represented the value of the establishments handed over, and of the expense of the emigrants whom the company had conveyed from this country.

Mr. A. MILLS very much doubted if there were many emigrants in the island. A larger demand had been extorted for an account.

Mr. W. EWART pressed for an account.

Mr. FORTESCUE promised to give an account showing the items.

Mr. CHILVERS asked whether any decision had been come to with respect to the separation of the two governments of Vancouver's Island and British Columbia.

Mr. FORTESCUE could not give a positive answer. The question was under the consideration of the Colonial Department, and he hoped it would soon be decided.

Mr. PEASE asked whether emigrants were encouraged by grants of land or minerals?

Mr. FORTESCUE said the land laws of Vancouver's Island and British Columbia were of a most liberal character, and were on an equality with the land laws of the adjoining territory of the United States.

Mr. A. MILLS asked whether this would be a final settlement?

Mr. FORTESCUE said that he confidently believed that this would be a final vote. At the same time, there was a slight difference between the Government and the company, and a claim was made ranging between £25,000 and £10,000; but he did not think it would come to anything.

Mr. BAXTER thought the committee would hesitate to vote £55,000 if it was not understood to be a final settlement with the company. (Hear.)

Mr. FORTESCUE said that the original claim of the company was for £225,000. That claim was calculated on the supposition that the Government would take the commercial establishments of the company. The Government were advised that they were obliged to repay only the sums which the company had laid out in a public or governmental character. That reduced the claim to £60,000. The Government had now offered £55,000, and he had no doubt that the company would accept that sum.

Mr. ANDERLEY asked whether, if this arrangement was concluded, the company would still retain its exclusive rights over the Hudson Bay territory?

Mr. FORTESCUE said that this settlement would not in any way affect the rights of the company under their ancient charter over the region bordering on Hudson Bay; but, if it was carried out, the company would cease to have any power or standing west of the Rocky Mountains, except as a private trading corporation.

Lord R. MONTAGUE asked why, if this sum had not been finally accepted by the company, £25,000 had already been paid to them?

Mr. BAXTER hoped that if this vote was agreed to the Government would inform the Hudson Bay Company that there was no chance of the House of Commons being induced to grant any further sum.

Mr. BOURVIE did not see how the Government could adopt such a course as that, because, if the Hudson Bay Company refused, to accept the compromise which had been offered by the Government, they would fall back upon their legal rights, and that House could hardly refuse to vote any sum to which they might be declared to be legally entitled.

Mr. FORTESCUE said that the company now claimed £60,000. The Government had offered them £55,000, and he was convinced in his own mind that the company would accept that sum. The vote was then agreed to.

THE WAR.

The news from the seat of war is to the 26th ult., possessing, however, comparatively little interest. Probably the most important feature is the appointment of Gen. Halleck to the Chief Command, thus indicating a tacit want of confidence in the generalship of McClellan, and conveying an implied assumption of recent reverses and disaster, disguise it as they may.

In official circles the idea of drafting is distasteful, the impression obtaining that the President's call for 300,000 volunteers is being responded to with such promptitude as will warrant the Government in calculating upon that number being available shortly. The New Orleans fleet has been ordered to James River. It is understood McClellan retains the command in Virginia. The U. S. Congress has adjourned. A Confederate gunboat had performed a wonderful feat of daring, by running through the whole Federal fleet on the Mississippi, injuring several vessels badly, and reaching the shelter of Vicksburg guns, having received but one shock.

The City Council of Philadelphia have appropriated $500,000 for paying from $40 to $50 to each volunteer from that city. The battles before Richmond are regarded in England as favoring the South. The bombardment of Vicksburg continues. Yellow fever has broken out at Norfolk. The Great Eastern sailed from New York on the 26th, carrying $1,200,000 in specie. Ex-President Martin Van Buren died at his residence on the 24th, which event was announced by the President in an official order.

On the 22nd 200 prisoners made their escape from the California State Prison, from the negligence and incompetency of the keepers. Six were killed, 26 wounded, and 31 captured. In making their escape they seized the Lieut. Governor, placing him between themselves and threatening danger. They compelled him to accompany them several miles.

NEW DIGGINGS REPORTED ON SWASH CREEK.—This Creek debouches into the Fraser about four miles above Yale on the opposite side; and ever since '58 has been more or less spoken of as giving indications of mineral deposits. Messrs. Romano and York, two enterprising citizens of Yale, recently fitted out a prospecting party and sent them up this Creek. They returned on Sunday last, and report favorably, bringing a sample of gold, which was shown to us by Mr. Ballon on Monday last. One piece weighing 38 cents contains quartz, and from its size and general appearance could not have been washed far, unmistakably indicating the near proximity of quartz diggings, which from the character of the country, may be rich and extensive. The development of paying diggings at a point where provisions can be had at a low rate would be most opportune just now, when there are so many unable to prospect in Cariboo for want of means.

THE ROADS ABOVE YALE are progressing rapidly. We are informed by a gentleman who has just come down, that in 20 days wagons may be expected to run from Boston Bar to Lytton, and thence to Cook and Kimball's Ferry; and the road is said to be of a superior character.

THE MOSQUITO SEASON is almost over, and we may fairly congratulate ourselves upon the almost total disappearance of the little pests which, in '59 and '60, caused some of our pioneer settlers to seek refuge on the neighboring Island, and put to the severest test the patience and endurance of those who braved it out. It was our opinion from the first that this plague would wane with the advancement of the city; and the correctness of the theory may now be assumed to be established.

THE STREAM OF GOLD continues. More than 1600 ounces, or $25,000 worth, was assayed at the Government Mint yesterday.

ROAD-TOLLS.—The amount of road-tolls collected during the month of July was: Douglas, $6,238.37; Yale, $2,610.12; Hope, $337.37.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—A woman was met on Sunday evening last on the trail a short way above Yale, by a man who stopped her and demanded her money, and upon her stoutly refusing, he struck her upon the head with the butt of a pistol, knocking her down and helping himself to her money—some $60. We understand the ruffian was shortly after captured by Sergt. McCann, of the Royal Engineers.

PHOTOGRAPHY.—We visited the establishment of Mr. C. Fulton yesterday, where we were shown a very fine collection of specimen pictures, indicating a high degree of artistic skill on the part of the operator. He has a large and choice assortment of cases and frames; and we would advise an early visit to his rooms, in the Columbia Hotel, by all those desirous of obtaining good likenesses, as so favorable an opportunity may not soon again present itself.

PROCLAMATION.

No. 1 A. D. 1862.

By His Excellency JAMES DOUGLAS, Companion of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of British Columbia and its Dependencies, Vice-Admiral of the Fleet, &c., &c.

WHEREAS, under and by virtue of an Act of Parliament, made and passed in the session of Parliament held in the 21st and 22nd years of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, entitled an Act to provide for the Government of British Columbia, and by a Commission under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, I, JAMES DOUGLAS, have been appointed Governor of the said colony, and have been authorized by Proclamation under the Public Seal of the said Colony, to make laws, institutions and ordinances, for the peace, order and good government of the same.

And whereas it is expedient to raise by loan, secured on the General Revenue of the said Colony, funds for the construction and maintenance of Roads and other means of communication in the said Colony, and to make provision for the redemption of such loan, and whereas to effect this it is expedient to repeal the "British Columbia Roads Loan Act, 1861,"

Now therefore, I do hereby declare, proclaim, and enact as follows:

1. The "British Columbia Roads Loan Act, 1861," is hereby repealed.

2. It shall be lawful for the Governor for the time being of the said Colony from time to time, or at any time hereafter, to cause to be made out and issued Debentures, secured upon the General Revenue of the said Colony, for such sum or sums of money, not exceeding Fifty thousand pounds sterling in the whole, as may be required for the purpose of constructing and maintaining roads and other works of communication with the interior of the said Colony.

At the lowest rate of interest procurable, not exceeding 10 per cent per annum, payable half yearly. Debentures redeemable in ten years.

3. All Debentures made out and issued under this Act shall bear interest at the lowest procurable rate, not in any case exceeding Ten pounds sterling per centum per annum, payable half yearly, and shall be redeemable at the expiration of Ten (10) years from the date thereof.

Debentures for sums not less than £100, payable with interest in London or New Westminster.

4. Every Debenture shall be for any sum or sums not less than One Hundred pounds sterling, which the said Governor shall determine, and which, together with the interest thereon, shall be payable in London, at the Office of the Agents General for the time being for Crown Colonies, or at the Treasury of the said Colony.

At option of bearer who by six months notice to Agents General or Colonial Treasurer, and endorsement of Debenture, may alter place of payment.

5. And the bearer of any of the said Debentures may alter the place of payment of the principal and interest to either the Treasury at New Westminster, or the Office in London of the Agents General for Crown Colonies, by giving six months previous notice in writing, terminating on the first day of January, or the first day of July at the previous place of payment, the Treasury in New Westminster, or Offices in London of the Agents General, as the case may be, of his wish to make such alteration, and causing the Office in New Westminster, acting as Treasurer, for the time being, or the said Agents General in London, as the case may be, who is and are hereby required to endorse on such Debenture a memorandum of the alteration.

Debentures to be registered with Agents General in London, and Auditor in New Westminster, to be a primary charge on the Revenue from whatever source.

6. No. 2, A. D. 1862.

By His Excellency JAMES DOUGLAS, Companion of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of British Columbia and its Dependencies, Vice-Admiral of the Fleet, &c., &c.

Presamble.

WHEREAS, under and by virtue of an Act of Parliament, made and passed in the session of Parliament held in the 21st and 22nd years of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, entitled an Act to provide for the Government of British Columbia, and by a Commission under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, I, JAMES DOUGLAS, have been appointed Governor of the said Colony, and have been authorized by Proclamation under the Public Seal of the said Colony, to make laws, institutions, and ordinances, for the peace, order and good government of the same.

British Columbia Roads Loan Act, 1862.

And whereas, by a Proclamation duly made and passed in the said Colony and entitled "The British Columbia Roads Loan Act, 1862," the Governor for the time being of the said Colony of British Columbia, has been authorized to raise a loan of Fifty Thousand Pounds Sterling, by the sale, in London, of Debentures, secured upon the General Revenue of the said Colony, and by the creation of a Sinking Fund, for the redemption of the said loan.

And whereas, from the remoteness of the said Colony from England, some time must elapse before the proceeds of the sale of the said Debentures can be remitted to the said Colony.

And whereas it is expedient for the due and immediate prosecution and completion of the Roads and Communications, now under Contract and in active process of construction, to effect an immediate Loan or Loans, upon the credit of the moneys to arise from the sale of Debentures under the said "British Columbia Roads Loan Act, 1862."

Now therefore, I hereby declare, proclaim and enact as follows:

A Loan of not more than £20,000 may be made upon the credit of the proceeds of the sale of Debentures under the British Columbia Roads Loan Act, 1862, upon terms to be prescribed by Governor.

1. It shall be lawful for the Governor for the time being of the said Colony, to borrow, and for any person persons to advance or lend for, unto, and for the use of Her Majesty, her Heirs and Successors, upon the credit of the moneys to arise from the sale of Debentures under "The British Columbia Roads Loan Act, 1862," any sum or sums of money, not exceeding in the whole the sum of Twenty Thousand Pounds Sterling, upon such terms, and at such rates of interest, and for such periods as the Governor for the time being of the said Colony shall deem expedient.

The moneys borrowed under this Act to be paid to Colonial Treasurer, to be accounted for in the same way as "Roads Loan Act" moneys, and accounted for like General Revenue.

2. The sums so obtained shall be paid into the Treasury of the said Colony, to a separate account, and applied from time to time, in all respects in the same manner, under the warrant of the said Governor, to the same purposes only, as by the said "British Columbia Roads Loan Act, 1862," is prescribed for the payment, expenditure, and application of the sums of money to be raised thereunder; and shall be accounted for in the same manner as if they formed part of the General Revenue.

Loans hereunder to be first charged on proceeds of "British Columbia Roads Loan Act, 1862," and repayable with interest thereon.

3. Every loan which shall be effected under the provisions of this Act, shall be deemed a first charge upon, and be payable out of, the moneys that shall arise, and be received by the Treasurer of the said Colony from the sale of Debentures under the said "British Columbia Roads Loan Act, 1862," and the Treasurer of the said Colony shall apply the said said moneys, in such sums and manner as the said Governor for the time being shall from time to time direct, in, or towards, the repayment of the Principal and Interest of any Loans which may be contracted under this Act, as when, and where, the same may respectively become due.

Certificate entitling Bearer to Principal and Interest.

4. Upon presentation of a Certificate, of the form prescribed in the Schedule hereto (and which the Treasurer of the said Colony is hereby empowered to issue) at the Treasury of the said Colony, the Treasurer shall pay to the Bearer thereof, all sums of money which shall for the time being, be, or remain due, or payable, under such Certificate for principal and interest, according to the form and tenor of each and every such Certificate.

Forgery to be Felony.

5. Every person who shall forge or alter, or shall offer, utter, present, dispose of, or put off, knowing the same to be forged or altered, any Certificate, issued, or purported to be issued, under this Act, shall be guilty of felony, and, being thereof convicted, shall be imprisoned for any period not exceeding three years, with or without hard labor, at the discretion of the Judge before whom any such person shall be tried and convicted.
